DESTROYED BY FIRE.

MILL Near Callands Burns, and Loss Is $40,000.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Chatham, Va., December 15.—The Chatham roller and mill of Banisterford roller and mill of M. B. Price, of Pittsylvania County, near Callands, was burned on Saturday night last. The building was about 140 feet square, and contained about $40,000 worth of machinery. Insurance was small.

Work on the public highway north of Chatham is progressing nicely, and the hill just across Cherrytown Creek, which is one of the worst places on the road, has been about halfway completed, and it is hoped will be completed before the winter road force is taken to the road leading south, on which two miles of permanent building is to be done next. When completed, Chatham will have macadamized roads from three directions. Work on the road of Main Street is nearing completion, and with favorable conditions will be completed in a few weeks.
